Requirements for eligibility for the Dimitri Dimitrov Scholarship

1. The Dimitri Dimitrov scholarship is aimed at covering travel expenses, which includes transport to and from the conference venue, and accommodation over the conference period. The conference registration costs and other travel expenses need to be covered by the applicant or the applicant's institution.
2. The Dimitri Dimitrov scholarship is for postgraduate students (Honours, Masters or PhD level) who do not have the financial means to attend and present at the conference. Furthermore, the applicant's institution cannot provide the financial support to cover the travel expenses for the applicant to attend the conference.
3. The applicant has to be, at the time of submitting the application, registered for a postgraduate degree at a South African Institution of higher education.
4. The applicant has to be a South African citizen or South African permanent resident.
5. The applicant has to have submitted an Extended Abstract to the conference.
6. The applicant has to have been invited to present at the Extended Abstract at the conference.
7. Both the applicant and the applicant's supervisor need to confirm that insufficient funds are available to cover the travel expenses.

I, as the presenting author, confirm that the information provided is correct and that I have read and understand the requirements for eligibility for the Dimitri Dimitrov scholarship.
